

Redmond Design Day Agenda

June 2, 2003

City Hall Campus

Redmond is working on a major Comprehensive Plan update, and a key element involves adopting a strategy to accommodate planned growth through the year 2022 while enhancing the City's livability.

In January, City Council endorsed the preliminary preferred growth strategy recommended by Planning Commission. This preliminary strategy is based on two key goals: increase the supply and diversity of new housing, and reduce traffic impacts associated with growth. The preliminary strategy also supports other elements of the City's adopted vision, including a quality natural environment, lively and walkable Downtown, and healthy economy.

The preliminary strategy is broad and there are many options within this framework. What is your preferred vision for the future of Redmond in the areas of housing, business, transportation and overall community livability? We want to hear from you!

5:00	Welcome Mayor Ives
5:05	Making Great Places Mark Hinshaw, Director of Urban Design LMN Architects
5:25	Workshop Overview Kim van Ekstrom
5:30	Stations
5:35 station 1 6:05 station 2 6:35 meal 7:00 station 3 7:30 station 4	Hear from experts in the fields of housing, business, design, and transportation about trends and options that might work for Redmond. Ask questions and begin to identify your preferred future vision for Redmond.
8:00	Group Work Session Work together with others to develop your preferred vision for the future of Redmond in the areas of housing, business, transportation and overall community livability
8:50	Group Presentations
9:15	Themes and Observations Mark Hinshaw
9:25	Close, Next Steps and Thank You! Mayor Ives

Special thanks to our workshop resource experts (on reverse side) and sponsors:

Seattle Gift Basket Company ♦

Corporate Express ♦

Home Depot